NEIGHBORHOOD FUNDERS GROUP

The Amplify Fund is a national pooled fund with two strategic goals: 1) to nurture and strengthen the conditions necessary for Black and indigenous communities, and communities of color to build power for equitable development gains, and 2) to organize funders so they shift what and how they fund.

WE DO THIS BY:

Featuring racial justice prominently in our problem statement, vision, activities, outcomes, values, and practicing racial justice in the operations of the fund.

Genuinely relinquishing power to local and BIPOC community leaders. For example, Puerto Rico's co-created grantmaking strategy was developed by Local Strategy Advisors, and was used by Amplify staff to select grantees. Additionally, the design of the second phase of Amplify's work (planned to launch in 2023) is being led entirely by grantees, including grantees in Puerto Rico.

Finally, Amplify funders are committed to organizing within their institutions and the broader field of philanthropy in service of doing what works for grantees.

The Amplify Fund recognizes that Black and indigenous communities, people of color, and low-income people are experiencing the most negative impacts of development, and (currently) have the least say. Therefore, we envision a reality where those cobenefit from the changes caused by development, including wealth creation, land control, and quality of life outcomes.

In 2018, Local Strategy Advisors in Puerto Rico identified the following equitable development issues as priorities that have guided Amplify's grantmaking:

USE OF PUBLIC FUNDS

Hurricane Maria provided a window for disaster capitalists to facilitate an agenda of privatization and austerity that harms residents. To combat this, one goal is to follow, influence, and intervene in the distribution of money while pushing forward a human rights-based analysis about the debt crisis and the impact of austerity.

HOUSING

Issues relating to housing inequality such as rising home and rental prices, displacement, gentrification, and difficulty accessing federal assistance, made community land trusts, housing cooperatives, and other alternatives to the predatory real estate market a goal in the Puerto Rico strategy.

ENERGY & THE ENVIRONMENT

Power returned to some places in Puerto Rico a year after Hurricane Maria, revealing the deeply inadequate energy system in the archipelago, so one goal in Puerto Rico is to develop a more sustainable, effective, and democratic energy system.

In 2018, Amplify's local Strategy Advisors in Puerto Rico highlighted eight conditions necessary to build power that have guided Amplify's grantmaking:

1. Community organizing
2. Tools to hold government officials accountable
3. Tools for community-led decision-making
4. Organizational capacity to absorb funds
5. Strong communications
6. An activated diaspora
7. A shared, and nuanced, racial justice analysis
8. Coordination amongst groups

All (11) grantee organizations in Puerto Rico are led by Executive Directors of color, and.....

over 60% are women or non-binary individuals.

We operate with the belief that the solution to development challenges is shifting decision-making to Black and indigenous communities, and communities of color, with strong racial justice analysis. So, we aim to nurture and strengthen the conditions necessary for those communities to build power.
