

JUNCTION
October 27 & 28, 2026
Durham, North Carolina

SPONSORSHIP INVITATION

What is the liberated world that philanthropy and movement partners can build together? NFG invites you to sponsor Junction, taking place October 27-28 in Durham, NC to explore this question with us.

NFG is where philanthropy and movement partners can work together toward a collective 50-year liberation journey. Junction is the space we're creating for this work to happen. Join us for this two-day convening to dream, practice radical imagination, and be in relationship with funders and movement partners as we build a more just and liberated world.

This convening is not your standard philanthropy gathering. We're bringing people together to experience wonder and awe, to think about the seeds we must plant and tend to, and to ground ourselves in the work we must do right now. Junction is an event for strategizing with co-conspirators in philanthropy and movement, not just listening to and learning from.

We hope you'll join NFG this October at Junction and build with us.

About Junction

Like all NFG convenings, Junction will be rooted in joy, camaraderie, care, fun — and centered on moving money to BIPOC communities today and into the future. As a political home for progressive philanthropy, NFG creates space for funders to be in deeper relationship so that we can develop a vision for our work, commit to building a long-term plan for philanthropy, and work collaboratively alongside movements to create a world where systems work for all.

Junction will be the space to dream about the possible futures we can give rise to when we move with accountability and commitment to NFG as an aligned community of funders.

Junction Features

Before Junction, NFG Co-Presidents will host 3-4 salons with NFG members and local organizers to gather feedback about the conversations we aim to have at Junction.

In October, NFG is designing an experience that will allow funders to be in awe, wonder, and (re)imagining. We will dream together about the world we want in 50 years and the pathways to get there. This work will identify new opportunities for growth and partnership, leveraging the power and resources that philanthropy holds.

There will ample be time to connect with longtime and new funders and movement faculty over shared meals, refreshments, and through facilitated community-building moments.

NFG programs — Amplify Fund, Democratizing Development Program, Funders for a Just Economy, Integrated Rural Strategies Group, Midwest Organizing Infrastructure Funders, and Philanthropy Forward will host strategy conversations.
